Spray Tanning

When you're tanning at home, preparation is the key to getting the most natural and even-looking result. It's amazing what a difference it can make, so it's worth following these few simple steps to make sure you get a flawless tan that last even longer...

24 HOURS BEFORE

Shave or Wax: Make sure you shave or wax any areas you need to - shaving or waxing immediately after treatment can damage the colouring.

Exfoliate: Exfoliate using an oil-free product, focusing on drier areas such as elbows, knees and ankles.

Moisturise: Moisturise your whole body with an oil-free moisturiser.

IMMEDIATELY BEFORE

Cleanse: Remove any make-up, deodorant, moisturisers or anything that could act as a barrier between your skin and the tanning product, as this can lead to discolouration.

Moisturise: Apply a thin layer of oil-free moisturiser to elbows, knees and ankles at this point too, but try and avoid contact with the rest of your body as this could prevent a completely even finish.

MAINTAIN

Once your tan has been applied you should be feeling good all over. But there are still a few steps worth following to guarantee the results are absolutely flawless and your tan lasts as long as possible.

WHAT TO WEAR

Due to its great smell you can apply Xen-Tan during the day or night, but it's always worth wearing loose, dark clothing afterwards.

DRYING TIME

Different products have different shades, so it should come as no surprise that the longer you leave a product on, the darker the colour. For best results leave on for a maximum of eight hours.

WASHING OFF

Once you're happy with your tan wash off the guide colour using warm water, which won't break up the colour.

PROLONG YOUR TAN

Xen-Tan Body Scrub has a light granular texture that leaves skin feeling wonderfully smooth and used over time can help extend your tan. Tan extenders are also ideal ways to prolong the life of your tan for as long as possible. Packed with skin-nourishing moisturisers, giving your skin an indulgent treat and ensuring your sunkissed colour stays fresh and fades evenly.

So now we've told you all you need to know, you can feel confident you'll not only look good all over, but feel good all over too.

We will look forward to seeing you on your next visit
